

THE 2008 STEWARDSHIP CONFERENCE
APRIL 11 – 12, 2008 KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI

Julie McCray-Goldsmith

Workshop:

❖ The Gifts of Today –
Stewardship Lessons for Families

Julia McCray-Goldsmith serves on the staff of Bishop Marc Andrus, coordinating faith formation and Christian education programs for the Episcopal Diocese of California. She works with the eighty parishes and missions of the diocese to make sure they have the leadership and resources necessary to offer their members the best possible opportunities for lifelong spiritual growth.

With a degree in architecture, a certificate in fundraising, years of non-profit work in Latin America and two teenage sons at home, Julia figures that the Holy Spirit has an odd sense of humor to have called her into this position. However, a vocation in Christian formation means that Julia is never off the hook for paying attention to God-- both in her personal spiritual practice, and in listening for the voice of God in the hopes and dreams of the worshipping community.
